PN-G is it

As summer became a part of our memories, we began anticipating what the new school year would bring. Everyone knew there would be changes, but what effect the addition of the Freshman Class, 22 new teachers, and new scheduling would have, was unknown to all. With or without these changes, preserving traditions and unity within the student body was a top priority, especially for seniors who wanted to make their last year the best. When school began, students and teachers alike showed a willingness and desire to keep that special spirit, and prove once again that PN-G IS IT.

PN-G is participation

Participation is the key to the success of PN-G. Most students participate in extracurricular activities which allow them to better their talents and excel in a variety of ways. The wide-spread reputation of the many clubs and groups from the Reservation is the result of students wanting to be involved, wanting to be the best, and wanting to show others they are proud to be from PN-G.

PN-G is competition

Competition and athletics are synonyms at PN-G.

From football to volleyball, track to tennis, basketball to baseball, Indians compete with a desire to be winners and though our teams may not be top-ranked, they have proved many times that they will not be defeated before they have begun.

No matter the outcome of a game or season, determination, effort, and good sportsmanship shown by Indian teams make them winners.

These traits are carried over to the fans that support teams from the Reservation and because of this, Indian teams and their fans will always be Number One.

PN-G is recognition

PN-G recognizes students whose talents and abilities allow them to excel. Some are recognized for their academic performance, some for their personalities, and others for special service. The students who are honored are the ones who have put forth extra effort. They are determined, hard working, and skilled in a variety of areas and being recognized by fellow students, faculty, or a group associated with the school is a great honor at PN-G.

PN-G is motivation

The faculty at PN-G is one of the most influential forces that students encounter during their lives. Its main goal is to make sure each student gets an education in all aspects of life.

The teachers encourage students to be individuals with their own points of view. The faculty also strives to.motivate the student body by encouraging every student to become involved and by supporting different groups and organizations. With this motivation students are able to make the most of their talents and abilities in many different areas. All of these things make receiving an education at PN-G something special.

PN-G is education

When school began this year, it was the beginning of a different way of life on the Indian Reservation. For the freshmen and sophomores it was a whole new world, while juniors and seniors just wanted "the little kids" to stay out of their way.

At first having Braves Warriors, and Indians all in one school seemed to separate students even more than their classifications, but that separation turned to unity as the year progressed and all became accustomed to their new routines.

Some day as each student looks back on his years at PN-G he will realize that these changes were all part of a very special education.

The big announcement . . .

Fans approve Sweetheart selection

The junior candidate, Susan Day was named 1982 Homecoming Sweetheart on Friday, October 22, during halftime of the game against archrival Nederland Bulldogs, a game which ended with the Indians winning 49-0. The crowning of the sweetheart climaxed the activities of Homecoming week.

This year's sweetheart was selected by the outcome of Variety Show only. This was unlike the preceding years when Variety Show, ticket sales, and candy sales were used to determine the sweetheart.

Class nominees are chosen by varsity football players and then, in an election by class members, one candidate was selected to represent each class.

Nominees for the senior class were Ronda Goodwin, Dana Shook, and Tracy Domec, with Ronda Goodwin representing the Senior Class.

Susan Day, Kelly Parks, Leigh Smithy, Nancy Geoffroy, and Katy Reeder were elected with Susan Day representing the Junior Class.

Sophomore candidates were Lori Guilbeaux, Jan May, and Kim Hanks with Lori Guilbeaux representing the Sophomore Class.

A new attraction to this year's Homecoming Court was two girls representing the Freshman Class. They were Frannie Anselmo representing Groves and Julie Hodges representing Port Neches.

A major change was made for the 1982 Homecoming activities. The Variety Show was the only factor to determine Homecoming Sweetheart.

The juniors took first place with "Those Were the Days." This show featured fictious times from the childhood of Susan Day, the junior sweetheart.

In ten years, this is only the third time the juniors have won the Variety Show.

"Passing Through Our Museum: America's Music and Culture," was the theme of the senior show, which featured skits and dances from different parts of the country.

The sophomore's show, "Earth Journey," was a take-off on the hit movie, "E.T."

For the students who participated in the Variety Show, the week of October 18 was filled with competitive spirit.

Being a PN-G varsity cheerleader is an experience no one but these eight girls could understand.

The life of a cheerleader may not be all fame and glory, but representing the Indians is an honor which makes up for all the hard work.

After practicing four hours a day for nine weeks, the cheerleaders attended Southern Methodist University, the largest camp in the nation, for cheerleading camp. These girls won superior ribbons each night in competition and were selected as one of the top nine squads out of 150 to compete for the Award of Excellence. The cheerleaders also brought home the spirit stick.

As the year began, the cheerleaders were busy practicing, painting posters, hanging signs, selling ribbons, and practicing cheers and stunts.

Their exciting year started off with attending football and volleyball games. Basketball season soon rolled around with three and four games a week. Baseball was the last sport to cheer at, but they also attended the Indian Relays where they passed out medals to all the winners.

As the year came to a close the seniors realized it was time to move on and make room for the new cheerleaders to fill their moccasins.

Jayvee cheerleaders spark spirit

In the spring of 1982 an election was held at PN-G and there were eight winners. These eight became the 1982-83 junior varsity cheerleaders.

After many arduous summer practices, they attended camp at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville. While there, they received four excellent ribbons, one super squad ribbon and won the spirit stick award the last day.

Under a new sponsor, Mrs. Rebecca Dungan, these girls put in a year of hard work and dedication that promoted that special spirit at the jayvee football, basketball, and baseball games.

Keri Abshire led the other seven as head cheerleader.

Shortly after the year began elections were held. Four girls from Port Neches and four girls from Groves began their year as sophomore cheerleaders.

Soon after being elected, they started those long after-school practices. Though afternoons were long, they were filled with fun that the eight girls will remember forever.

The girls were brought into the spotlight every Thursday night for what proved to be ten short weeks.

After all the football hysteria was over, the eight girls began cheering for the sophomore basketball team.

Even though their year as sophomore cheerleaders was soon over, the eight girls will always remember the good times they had and the friendships that were made.

This year PN-G had 16 additional cheerleaders added to its force. The girls made up the two freshman cheering squads representing the Warriors and the Braves. After being elected their eighth grade year, the girls practiced daily during the summer months. Both squads attended summer camp and won numerous awards. When school began, the girls practiced three nights a week, with freshman football games on Tuesday. For the last game of the season, each team had its own pep rally led by the cheerleaders. The end came too fast, but the 82-83 school year will hold many special memories for these 16 girls who helped spread spirit across the Reservation.

Officers have memorable year

After five years of attending camp at NTSU, the Indianettes made a change of pace and attended camp at Texas A&M for the first time. The girls brought home 206 ribbons and two superior ratings for "at-home" competition routines.

The officers began preparing for the upcoming year in the middle of July. The hours spent practicing while everyone else was at the beach paid off when football season began. While polishing a different routine each week, the Indianettes also participated in Big sis-Li'l sis activities and somehow found the time to decorate their locker boys' homes each week.

In addition to halftime performances, the Indianettes also performed at basketball games and attended competition. They brought the year to an end with a spring revue in which each girl participated in two routines which they choreographed themselves. In this revue the newly selected Indianettes were also presented.

The seniors leave behind their purple and white for the returning Indianettes but will always keep with them the special memories and friendships that were made in the 1982-1983 year.

Student Council is . . .

In the previous year, student council began preparing for this school year. Four new officers were elected and began preparation at summer workshop where they spent a week at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos. At the workshop they set goals and exchanged ideas with other high school student councils.

In order for a council to be successful, it must decide early what objectives it will have and strive daily to reach the goals that are set.

One objective of the council was to improve student/faculty relations. This has been done through the Secret Pal program for several years. In addition, the Teacher Birthday committee was added to the program. This enabled the students to show their appreciation for the faculty by giving a gift on their birthdays.

Another successful project that was done this year was the "Kiss a Pig" contest. This was done as a way to raise money to help a PN-G student in her fight against cancer. The pig was kissed in a general assembly by two of the teachers who raised the most money. Everyone was pleased with the amount of money the school was able to give.

. . . caring, involving, willing . . .

The student body elected ten representatives from each class to be student council members. These representatives then became very involved. They were assigned to committees and one person was chosen as chairman.

The council was based on a point system. In order for the points to be kept accurately, each representative had to fill out a report on the amount of time he worked. The top twelve point holders attended state convention in Austin.

This year the council was split due to four lunch periods. Therefore, the meetings were held twice. There were also separate committees with co-chairmen.

Without the volunteer program, most of the council activities would not have been as successful. This involved the entire student body. Volunteers were able as well to serve on committees and be chairmen.

Freshmen play in perfect harmony

The Freshman band was an added attraction at ninth grade football games, however, the band's activities did not stop there.

The group practiced for halftime performances at Braves and Warriors home games, and individuals also spent much time preparing for contests with Jane Johnson qualifying for All-region band.

The largest contest for individuals was regional UIL Solo and Ensemble at which the group received 13 medals.

To finish the rest of the year the freshman band performed at the annual spring concert. The final step for the group was to put away all horns and music and prepare for the next year's marching season.

The front line of the Purple Pride set forth to conquer new goals this year.

The twirlers had many duties including learning a new routine each week. But first of all they had to make new headdresses. In addition, the twirlers, for the first time, learned to perform with flags. White flags with a purple and silver design added contrast to the marching contest drill.

The times the twirlers have had will not be forgotten. As the year closes, the headdresses will be left behind, but the memories will remain forever.

Band never lets down

A school year filled with many musical activities began in August. Those activities never stopped until the end of May.

Two weeks before school started, band members were getting ready for the hectic time of year known as football season.

Work began with a first division rating at UIL Marching Contest.

The hard work paid off as the band received a combined superior rating from the judges.

In addition to the rigors of marching season, many individuals began preparing for All-Region tryouts in December.

Seven PN-G Band members were selected to the All-Region Band, with two advancing to All-State tryouts in Nacogdoches.

At solo and ensemble, seventy-six medals were won. First division gold medal winners qualified for state solo and ensemble contest in Austin.

Individual work was vital to the success of the band. This was shown at Concert and Signtreading contest.

The symphonic Band under the direction of Mr. Sammy Almany, performed "Marche de Bellgian Parachutistes," C. Wiley; "First Suite in E flat for Military Band," Gustav Holst; "Satiric Dances," Normal Del Jollio, and received a good rating.

The Concert Band, directed by Mr. Karl Wadenpfuhl, played "Under One Flag," Von Blon; "Contrast on a Corelli Theme," Hull; "Symphony in One Movement," Giovanninni; and received an excellent rating from the judges.

Both bands received a superior rating in sightreading.

The band played at civic events such as the dedication of the Hebert Library. Groves Pecan and Pow Wow Festival parades, and middle school concerts were other activities taking place during the school year.

Although falling short of a few goals, the band pride never let down.

This year the Future Teachers of America attended area convention where for the second year District V historian will be represented by a PN-G student. Lalona Wallace will serve as 83-84 historian taking over Jan Radley's office.

The American Field Service continued to stay active despite not having a foreign exchange student. They worked hard in hopes of sponsoring an exchange student for the 83-84 school year.

Three little Indian Clubs

The Art Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Brooks McKenzie, undertook various projects throughout the year. They won the annual spirit poster contest, painted the backdrop for the Variety Show, painted the "no parking" lines in the parking lots, and run-throughs for the games on Friday nights. Their chief project for the year was painting an Indian head on the wall in the weight room.

Miss Gloria Hester and her Spanish Club had a very active year. They ate at different restaurants and also had food in class. They made hall posters and signs in Spanish for the ball games. During the holiday season, they made greeting cards and pinatas. They also put up displays in the showcase outside the cafeteria.

The French Club consists of 18 members and is sponsored by Mrs. Joanne Conn. They have monthly meetings with a different French food as part of the agenda. They went to Houston to see "Cyrano de Bergerac" and finished off the day with a stop at San Jacinto Mall in Baytown.

They also spent a Saturday at the Houston Museum of Fine Arts with shopping at the Galleria. Mrs. Conn and some of the students are planning a trip to Europe this summer with a stop in Paris. Some members of the club have also gotten French pen pals to correspond with.

Math, science are it!

"When the slogan fits, use it," say the Math and Science Clubs. Both can lay claim as they have done extremely well in tournament and UIL competition. The Math Club has won a total of 84 trophies and awards, and the Science Club has won 32. In addition three members competed in math and science at the state meet.

Not only do the regular contestants continue to get better but all members of the clubs improve their skills as they strive for a place on the teams. This academic competition becomes more appealing to PN-G's students each year.

HOSA, DECA, OEA, work toward goals

DECA, OEA, and HOSA continue to help juniors and seniors prepare for the work world. DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) which has two chapters on the Reservation, consists of juniors and seniors who attend four classes, then are released into the work force. For two years students can learn firsthand how the free enterprise system works in the Golden Triangle. OEA (Office Education Association) and HOSA (Health Occupation Students of America) operate a little different from DECA, as juniors OEA and HOSA students attend training courses in their perspective field; then as seniors they are released after a half day of school for work, where they can gain needed experience. All three clubs allow students to get a head start on the career they choose.

VICA chapters enjoy successful year at PN-G

VICA (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America), which has seven chapters at PN-G, gives students a chance to learn a trade and be prepared for life after high school. VICA students in Welding, Auto Mechanics, Air Conditioning and Refrigeration, Vocational Drafting, Cosmetology, and Machine Shop, attend three hour labs each school day where they received advance training in their perspective field. ICT students are on a different schedule; these students attend half a day of school and then are released to a job which in some way deals with a trade. Indian Singers on tour in '83

The Indian Singers busily filled their year by proving they truly were "Indian Singers." The group consisted of Patrick Cammarata and Julie Thompson, two-year seniors; Brad McCaleb and Cindy Rowland, one-year members; Kelly DeVoll, Biff Burris, Seth Smith, Cindy Pyland, Judy Trahan, and Sharon Finley, juniors. Instrumentalists were Peter Voight, bass; David Duplantis, guitar; Denise Carlin, piano; and one-year senior Scott Sheppard on drums. Elisa Westmoreland was manager of the group which was under the leadership of Billy Curl.

Throughout the year they performed many concerts. Among these was one for the general faculty of Port Neches Independent School District. The group also entertained at the New Teachers Banquet, the PTA District Council Workshop, the Port Neches Lions Club, and the Pow Wow Festival as well as many others.

The group competed in the UIL Solo and Ensemble Contest in Liberty where they received a I (first) Division rating. The group soon after traveled to Nashville, Tennessee, where they got a taste of country and true blue grass music.

The year ended on a high note with the annual Spring Concert. It was a year to be remembered by all who were involved.

Concert Choir likes to sing

The 1982-83 members of Concert Choir performed under the direction of Mr. Billy Curl. The year was filled with many activities including shows at the Collins Apartment Community room, Cresthaven Nursing Home, and Christmas shows at First Bank Trust, Central Mall, and PN-G's Christmas show in the auditorium.

The Concert Choir was also fortunate enough to be taped at KJAC for still another Christmas show. They also competed at Beaumont Charlton-Pollard February 5 in the Solo and Ensemble Competition. They then competed in Concert and Sight Reading where they received a II in Sight Reading and a III in concert. They closed the year with their annual Spring Concert.

The school year was an exciting one for the drama and debate clubs. They competed in various tournaments and festivals to prepare for UIL competition in the spring. The Tribe Troupe produced the UIL one-act play entry, "The Long Christmas Dinner."

In order to qualify for state, one must receive a superior ranking at an earlier festival. Those who qualified for state were Dee Hopper, Lisa Howarth, Danny Bledsoe, Mary Ann Lynch, Al Hohmann, Lori Dorsey, David Duplantis, Brougher Bass, Ziad Matar, Troy Badeaux, and Duane Decuir.

The members of these clubs keep the competitive spirit alive through much practice and hard work.

PN-G wins District Sweepstakes

A major spring activity at Port Neches-Groves is the annual University Interscholastic League literary competition. Students actually begin to prepare for the event in January. Many long hard hours are spent studying and practicing for the events. The students spend time both after school and in study hall preparing for their respected contests. The contests include typing, shorthand, science, calculator, number sense, ready writing, spelling, debate, drama, and journalism.

This year the contest was held on March 23 at Beaumont Charlton-Pollard. PN-G was represented well and sent students to regionals in spelling, typing, shorthand, number sense, journalism, calculator, and science. Not only did they accomplish that terrific goal, but they were able to bring home the sweepstakes trophy.

PN-G is extremely proud of these fine young students and deeply appreciates all the time and effort they are willing to give.

Seven compete for state titles

Eight students advanced to UIL regional competition in seven contests and seven, one in each contest, qualified for state. PN-G was proud and even though none placed at state, the pride was not diminished for to have entries in seven contests was an accomplishment in itself.

In journalism Jan Sessions competed in headline writing. In math Darren Gaspard competed in number sense and Khoa Nguyen competed in calculator. In business Tina Ortiz competed in shorthand and Carla Hale competed in typing. Jill Comstock was entered in spelling and David VanVranken competed in science.

The three-day trip was an experience the seven students and six teachers will not soon forget.

Star light brightens '83 Prom

"A Starry, Starry Night" was the theme for the 1983 Junior-Senior prom hosted by the Junior Class.

The prom was held at the Brad Club on March 26 from 8 p.m. until 1 a.m. The club was transformed into a twilight sky by dangling stars and clouds which carried out the theme. The music was provided by J. J. Jeffery of KALO 99 and pictures were taken by Leo Weeks Photography.

Junior Class president Ricky Provost opened the evening with a welcome speech and later called out numbers for door prizes donated by local merchants.

Indians pick new leaders

Cheerleader and Indian Spirit tryouts were held on April 22 with 14 girls and 7 boys anxiously awaiting the election results.

After nine days of strenuous work and many sore muscles, everyone agreed clinic was an experience never to be forgotten.

The juniors elected were Jill Dumesnil and Sherri Freyou. Dwayne Fowler was the newly elected Indian Spirit. The three sophomores elected were Elisa Adams, Dena Dattalo, and Kim Hanks. This group will join the returning cheerleaders Susan Day, Nancy Geoffroy, and Katy Reeder.

Directors select 1 junior, 4 sophs

On May 5 the band directors selected drum majors for 1983-84; Denise Carlin and Vivian Manning were chosen on the basis of their skills in executing marching drills, vocal drills, and directing the band.

Twirler clinic began on May 6 with the candidates' military solos. On May 9-11 the candidates were cliniced by Grace Withers, a former Indian twirler and Sam Houston State twirler. The girls were taught and graded on the dance routine taught by Grace.

On May 13 the band directors announced the twirlers for 1983-84. The girls selected were junior Denise Gay, and sophomores JoAnna Alexander, Ellen Ducote, Cathy Durdin, and Dana Fournet. They will join two-year seniors Kelly Locke, head twirler; Cindi Simmons, assistant head twirler; Christi Darst, Julie Hebert, and Tina Van Hess.

Memorable year comes to end

The Indianettes' long year is over, but the memories of the times they shared together are not gone.

Although football season was over too soon, the Indianettes' busy schedule did not stop. Competition practice rewarded the Indianettes with a sweepstakes trophy from the Houston Invitational.

Tryouts came next and brought two weeks of hard work for both junior Indianettes and the candidates from which 48 juniors and sophomores were selected.

On May 19, the Indianette banquet, the last time the Indianettes joined together to share the special friendships that were made throughout the year, was held at Arthur's. The nine new line officers were presented with headdresses and the captain was named. Even though the Indianette year is over, the memories will linger to last a lifetime.

Magazine sells out

The 1982-83 school year was filled with hard work, creativity, and fun for the Looking Glass staff.

The Looking Glass consisted of short stories, poetry, essays, and art contributed by students.

The staff encouraged student participation by sponsoring several contests. Winning the Spotlight Award for superior literary achievement was Pete Livingston.

Jill Comstock, editor-in-chief, and Lisa Cegielski, associate editor, attended the Trinity University literary magazine workshop in June to strengthen their knowledge of content and organization. Mrs. Joanne Conn was sponsor of the Looking Glass staff.

Photography is as necessary to the yearbook as the alphabet is to reading; you can't do the latter without the former.

PN-G's student photographers are kept busy with requests to fill a 376-page yearbook and 8-page newspapers. They work under constant deadlines made worse by the insistence of the publications staff. In the end, however, it is all okay for they helped record PN-G memories.

Publications prove 'PN-G IS IT!'

Like everyone else the publication's staffs had to deal with the change that took place this year.

The staff started preparing for the year by attending both the Trinity and Lamar Journalism Workshops this past summer.

As school started the Pow Wow staff began preparing for its first paper. Not only did the paper have to cover the usual senior, junior and sophomore activities, but the freshman activities had to be covered as well.

Likewise the War Whoop had an additional thirty-two pages added to accommodate the 400 new students that were added to the high school.

Together the staffs solved the problem and were able to record all the great times of the 1983 school year.

Managers, Trainers work never ends

The coaching staff and athletes could not function properly without the help of the dedicated managers and trainers and the things that they do.

The jobs they do consist of taking care of injured players, issuing and repairing equipment, washing clothes and towels, and just being there in an athlete's time of need.

Although the hours these young men work are often long, they seem to enjoy what they do. These managers and trainers had many good times which more than made up for the many hours that they put in.

Tribe starts competitive season

The 1982 Indian football team began the year expected by some to finish no better than last place. With one starter returning on defense and the same offense, experience was not this team's long suit. However, with a JV team that went 10-0 the year before, a group of lettermen determined to win, and the new two-team playoff system, this squad was out to surprise a few people.

Though they were not blessed with great size, the biggest starter was quarterback Deny Duhon at 195 pounds, they made up with heart and desire. Also a defense which had a 145-pound defensive end and a 155-pound linebacker used a stunting and aggressive style to stop opponents early.

The first game of the season was a trip to Pasadena to play on the astroturf of the J. Frank Dobie Longhorns led by Lawrence Mitchel, the fastest sprinter in the nation. Defense was the main factor, holding the Longhorns to 7 points, but a kickoff returned for a touchdown did in the young Indians, 12-10.

The next Friday night the Tribe hosted the number one ranked Bryan Vikings. Expectations were high for the home opener, but the bigger, more experienced team from Bryan controlled the tempo of the game and beat the Indians 28-6. Again the kicking game hurt the Indians, for one of the Vikings' scores was a punt returned the distance, and also an interception was returned for a score.

Young team starts season slow

The next week it was the same song but a different verse against the Baytown Sterling Rangers. Ranked number four in pre-season, the Rangers brought to Indian Stadium a very well disciplined and balanced football team. During a game which was a defensive struggle, the Indians led 6-5 with 1:46 left. However, a tired Indian defense yielded to a strong fourth-quarter push by the Rangers which put them on top 13-12.

Next Friday night the opposite prevailed, as the Tribe held on to its 17-14 victory against the Beaumont-Charlton-Pollard Cougars. Though it was not a most impressive win, the Indians were glad to get it. Also it started their district record on a positive note.

Next on the agenda were the Pirates from Vidor led by Tim Hagler. On this night Hagler well deserved the award of "Most Valuable Player" in district 22-5A for he rushed for over 200 yards with two bruised thighs. Though the score was only 21-7, the offense was starting to show signs of maturing.

Then the Indians hosted the West Orange-Stark Mustangs in a battle that ended with the Tribe on top 19-14 and kept their playoff hopes alive with a 2-1 district record.

The Indians then traveled to Beaumont to face the newly created West Brook Bruins, the result of a merger of Hebert and Forest Park. In a wild scoring battle the Indians scored the most points they had scored all season up to that point, 28, but the Bruins put 35 on their side of the scoreboard and went on to win the state championship as the second place team from district 22-5A.

Then the Nederland Bulldogs came to Port Neches in hopes that a 17-year dominance by the Indians could be ended. However, it was the same song, verse 18 and a little sweeter melody, for the Tribe did in the "Year of the Dog" with a 49-0 romp. In a game surrounded by a lot of hoopla like letter writing and car parades, etc. . . . the Indians proved that actions speak louder than words. The win had the Tribe still in the playoffs picture tied for second place with French, Vidor, and West Brook.

In the next-to-last outing of the season, the Indians again traveled to Beaumont, this time to face the French Buffaloes. On a very sloppy field which hampered French's running game, the Indians came from behind with a last minute touchdown set up by a pass from Deny Duhon to Richard Nelson to win 21-14.

After two strong wins, the Indians were now playing in playoff form. They had one last chance to make post-season play, beat number two ranked Thomas Jefferson and hope that West Brook and Vidor would tie to eliminate each other. The Yellow Jackets took quick control with two quick scores, and the Indians could only manage three points. However, in the second half, the Tribe came back to assume control. Handling the trenches convincingly, the team's true enemy in this contest was turnovers and time, for the final score was 29-17 with the Yellow Jackets on top.

There is a saying "The Indians never lose, they just run out of time." That is what happened to this game and this team, having trouble getting started but coming on very strong in the end. The Indians did not lose, they just ran out of time.

Time runs out for the Indians

Trying to equal last year's jayvees' undefeated record, this year's squad posted a 5-4-1 record. Brent Breaux, Mark Anderson, and Danny Morgan sparked the defense while Ray Mason, Gabe Orena, and Regan Hightower led the offense.

Two big wins over Nederland and one over West Orange-Stark led the jayvees to their winning record. The team's four losses came at the hands of powerhouses West Brook, Thomas Jefferson, French, and Baytown Sterling.

Experience was a major part of their season and is sure to be used next year, as it has in the past, in the winning way.

Warriors, Braves show promise

Since entering high school the freshman football teams have taken a back-seat as far as attention goes but that did not affect their performance on the football field.

The Braves ended the year with a record of 3-5-1. Although they had a losing season, they showed promise and a fighting spirit. They ended district play with a record of 1-4.

The Warriors captured the district crown with a 4-0-1 record. This talented bunch went 10-0-1 for the season and show a promising future for the Indians.

The Braves were led on offense by Keith Borne, Joey Nicotre, and Robbie Guidry.

The defensive standouts were Steve Davis, Jay Humphrey, and Jimmy Jenkinson.

The standouts for the Warriors on offense were Keith Huckaby, Chuck Odom, Brent Sattler, and Mike White.

Rock-a-noos' winning ways fall short

The Port Neches-Groves volleyball team completed a hard-played season which saw them finish third in district with an 11-3 record. The defending state champs did not quite make the playoffs as they fell behind district winner Thomas Jefferson and second place Nederland. The ladies were tied for first place with Nederland and TJ at the end of the first round of district play, but in the second round they lost matches to each of them, which pushed them out of a playoff spot.

Two-year varsity member Lori Swan received All-district honors and was named to the East All-star team while Belinda Duhon, a one-year varsity member, received second team All-district honors.

The Rock-a-noos' overall record was 20-11. They competed in 3 tournaments and 5 non-district contests. The Indians brought home the second place trophy from the YMBL tournament defeating Nacogdoches, Vidor, and Deer Park, before they lost to Kountze in the championship game.

Spiker Lori Swan and setter Belinda Duhon were selected for the All-tournament team.

In the Cypress Creek tournament the Rock-a-Noos advanced to the consolation finals where Deer Park squeaked by the Indians in a close match. The lady spikers didn't fair so well in the Spring Branch Tourney as they lost in the first two rounds, to Spring Woods and South Park.

Freshman teams start off right

For the first time in the history of PN-G, there are freshman volleyball teams; in fact, there are two. The usual rivalry between Groves and Port Neches diminished to produce separate winning seasons.

The Braves' season was superior for they came out second in district; only behind Central, to whom they lost the only game during district play. The Braves competed in several tournaments in the South Park tournament and won the consolation trophy. The Braves are coached by Mrs. Julie Roccaforte.

The Warriors were competitive all season. They won two games and also gained some valuable experience. The Warriors also competed in several tournaments. The Warriors are coached by Mrs. Mickie Emmentt.

The fine performances these two teams displayed, indicate the girls will give PN-G experienced JV and varsity volleyball teams for several seasons to come.

Indians try to fill big shoes

Coach Don Bryson started the 1982-83 basketball season from scratch. He had no players with varsity experience, a transfer from Minnesota, two seniors who didn't play basketball until this year, and six other juniors and seniors with only JV experience.

Paul Stevens, the transfer from Minnesota, Tommy Jordan and Jamie Barton, the two rookies, juniors Randy Jones, John Lindner, and Greg Westbrook, and seniors Derek Fuller, Randy LeBlanc, and Brad McCalab filled the void for the inexperienced Tribe.

What Coach Bryson did have going for him was a group of dedicated, hardworking young athletes. Their leader (and prime example of the team's personality) was 5'8", 135 pound point guard Randy LeBlanc. Always giving his best, LeBlanc's best performance came at no better occasion than against the Bulldogs of Nederland. Though the team lost its first meeting with the 'Dogs by one point, the Indians came back and beat the talent-superior Bulldogs 54-50 in front of a very entbusiastic crowd. Afterwards the Nederland fans had to be escorted out in order for the PN-G fans to leave.

The team's achilles heel all season long was coming out cold in the second half. Though the squad did not win as many games as the team the year before had, they should have no regrets because they did what was asked of them and gave their best until the very end.

JV, Sophs Look To The Future

The junior varsity basketball team, which finished with a 7-21 overall record and a 3-11 district mark, was directed by Coach Togo Railey. The team was led by juniors Danny Badeaux and Lance Freeman and sophomore Regan Hightower, the leading scorer.

The sophomore cagers were coached by James Riley. James Wooten and Dean Morgan led the squad to a 6-12 overall mark and a 5-7 district mark.

Neither of the two teams finished with a winning record but never gave up as they contended throughout the year. They played tough competitors and this should help their cause in future years at PN-G.

Young Hoopsters Gain Experience

The Port Neches Warriors and the Groves Braves went from one extreme to the other in basketball this year.

The Warriors had a fantastic season on the basketball court. They won three tournaments and the district championship.

The Braves, on the other hand, had a disappointing year. They could only capture 5 victories in their 15-game season.

The Warriors had an impressive season record of 19-2 and a district record of 9-1. Their only district loss was to the C.O. Wilson Bullpups.

In district play the Braves finished the season with a record of 2-8. Their only two victories came at the expense of the Vidor Vikes.

The Warriors won their own tournament by defeating the Vidor Bucs 51-36, the Central Cannines 43-20, and the C.O. Wilson Bullpups 67-43.

They also won the South Park Tournament by beating Lumberton 72-31, South Park 61-42, and Silsbee 49-42.

Their third tournament championship was achieved at Nederland. They defeated the Vidor Bucs in the first game. Then they beat the host teams, Central and C.O. Wilson.

The Braves did, however, capture the consolation at the Nederland Tournament. After losing to Kelly they defeated the Vidor Vikes and Vidor Bucs.

The Warriors for the '83 season were Jeff Simmons, Jeff Lane, Gerald Dailey, Darren Bertin, John Dumesnill, Robert Nobles, Todd Bryson, David Eaves; Brian Stevens, Drek Reese, Jared McConathy, and Michael Franklin.

The players for the Braves are Brent Munlin, Aaron Jackson, Mitch Murdock, Craig Huffstetler, Blaine Girouard, Bill Henson, Jason Thibodeaux, Rodney Scroggs, Eric Hoeny, and Drew Wright.

Lady cagers post 3-13 mark

Although dedication and improved playing went into each game, the girls basketball team finished with a district record of 3-13 and a season record of 10-15.

The team was under the direction of Ms. Pam Wood for the third year.

Two-year letterwomen were seniors Ashley Woodyard, Renate Cormier, and junior Kim Bradshaw.

One-year letterwomen were juniors Regina Armstrong, Cindy Jones, Elisa Westmoreland, Jana Hebert, and sophomores Alicia Mays and Debbie Fowler.

Girl Freshmen Dribble Down

Port Neches-Groves High School now has two freshman girls' basketball teams. They are the PN-G Braves and the PN-G Warriors. The usual rivalry between the two teams was not as intense as both teams produced individual winning seasons.

The Braves, coached by Mrs. Vickie Norris, won several games. They also competed in several tournaments.

The Warriors, coached by Mrs. Dianne Stucky, had an equally fine season. The Warriors also competed in several tournaments.

These two teams gained much valuable experience to use in the years ahead. By the great spirit these teams displayed, PN-G is sure to have excellent JV and varsity teams next season.

Tracksters stride with pride

The Indian track team competed in eight meets, including the District 22-5A meet held at West Orange-Stark.

Many runners consistently placed in the meets. The 400 meter relay team of Brett Badeaux, Bradley Worsham, Artie Trahan, and Brian Badeaux placed third and fourth in most meets, along with the 1600 meter relay team consisting of the same runners.

Individuals also excelled in their respective events. Andy Owen, hurdler; Mike Eaves, 800 meter contestant; and Matt Campbell, miler; placed consistently in many meets.

The field event participants also made their way into the top six in many meets. Discus thrower Troy Daugherty, pole vaulters John Nichols, Thad Prince and Johnny Provost, and shot putter Byron Cassill all had good showings.

With many returning runners and field event participants, coaches Wayne Winn, Terry Cobb, and Jerry Hooper have high hopes for next year.

Earlier in the year the cross country team, sponsored by Coach Steve Comer, competed in meets.

The runners were often pitted against some of the finest high school runners in the state. The district cross country meet was held at West Brook where the Indians placed fifth.

Freshmen prepare for upcoming years

This year the Warrior and Braves girls track team represented PN-G for the first time. Both teams attended several meets and represented the school well. Although the girls were attending a different school than usual, the schedule was no different from last year. The students were transported to their respective junior highs ninth period every day where they worked with their junior high coaches.

Kim Swan of Port Neches was the only one to place in district. Kim received a first place in the hurdles.

Port Neches' coaches were Ms. Linda Brown and Mrs. Mickie Emmett. Groves was coached by Mrs. Vickie Norris and Mrs. Sandy Rogers.

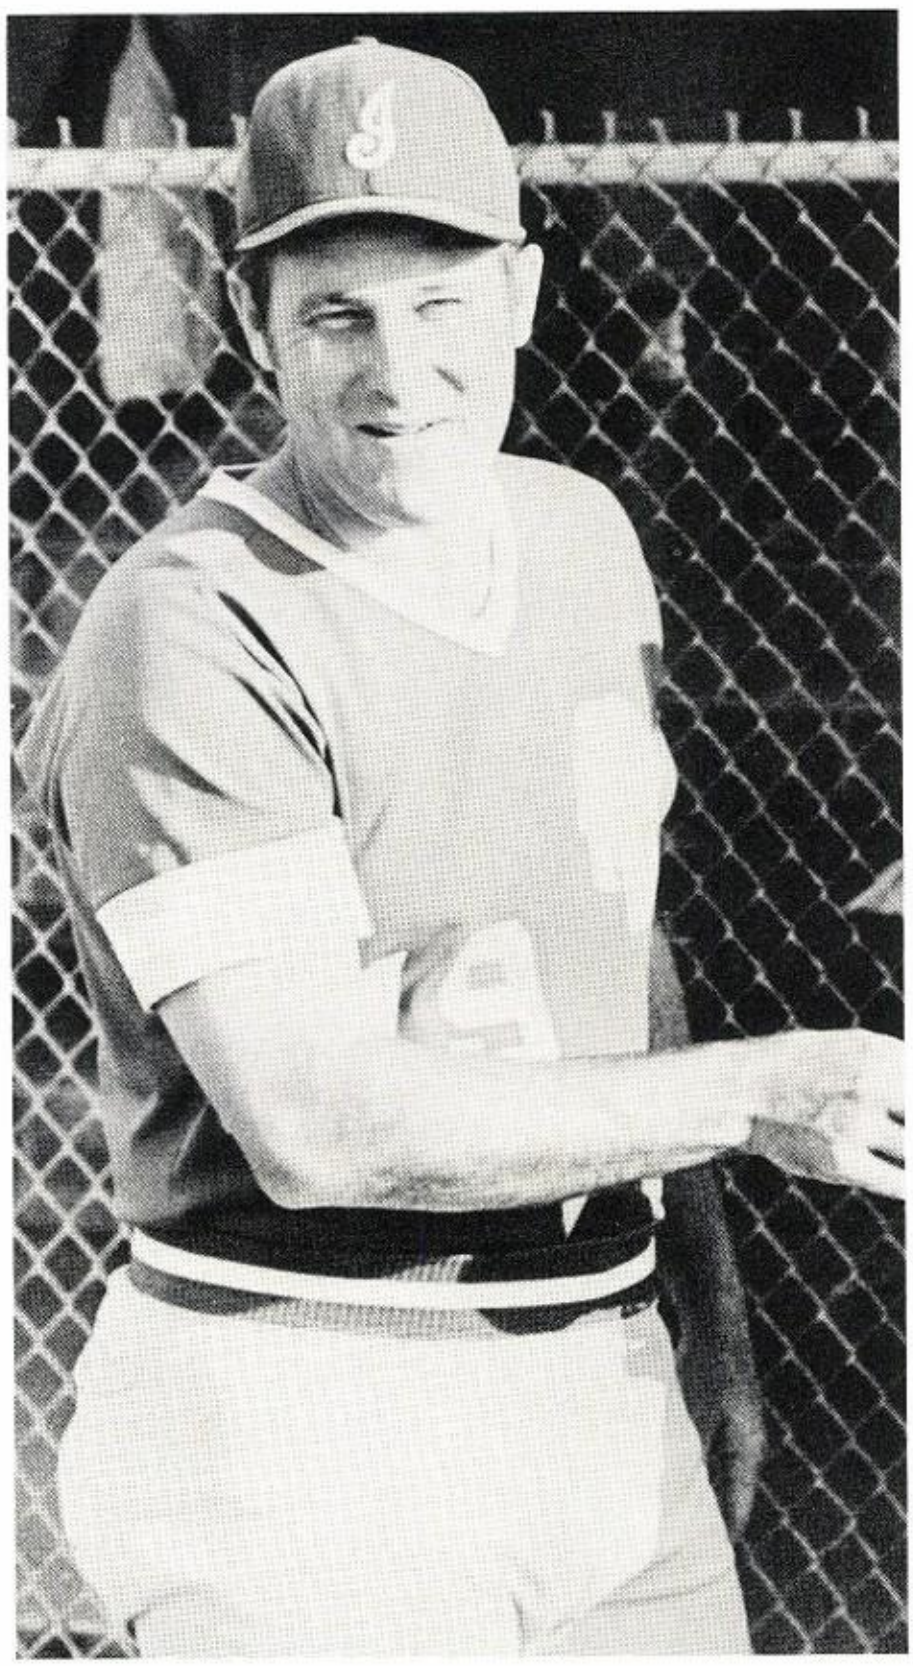
(C) Short stop Gary Wilson concentrates on fielding the ball. (D) All-district selection Dwayne Romero fires one down to second base. (E) Head Coach Mike Bradshaw seems to be enjoying his first season.



Indians close with 12-15 mark

The varsity baseball team started the year under first year Coaches Mike Bradshaw and Lloyd Ricketson. Coach Bradshaw moved up through the ranks from assistant head coach to head coach while Coach Ricketson came from West Sabine High School to fill the gap left by Coach Bradshaw.

With the coaching changes came a slight change in the style of Indian baseball. Pitchers were allowed to play other positions and more players were involved in the games with the pinch hitting and runner rules. Examples are Brad Bailey and Shane Warr. Bailey had a 1.53 ERA and while not pitching, solidified the second base spot. When Warr was not pitching, he punched in time at third base and batted .423.

The All-district players were Dwayne Romero, Beau Freyou, and Steve Scott. Romero, the district's only left handed catcher, was hampered with a broken nose and a hyperextended finger during the year. Freyou, a first baseman who committed only one error all year, batted at a .397 clip. Right fielder Scott had two homeruns to his credit this season.

Other contributors to the team that won second place at the South Park Tournament, finished fifth in district, and was a game and a half away from making the playoffs were Joey Hebert, Jon Carona, and Gary Wilson. Hebert paced the team with a 7-3 record. Carona seemed to be everywhere at his centerfield spot, and likewise for Wilson who played the short stop position.

The JV baseball team started the year under the reins of first year Coach Jay Stone. The team's main duty is to teach the players how to play baseball Indian style.

After coming out with a mediocre start, the little Indians got it in gear by winning the South Park Tournament. The team then went on to finish out the year with a 10-7 record.

Team leaders in the pitching department were Louis Stevens, (5-0), and Buddy Hebert, (3-0). The big bats were Rodney Lynch with a .347 average and Scott Hargraves with a .322 average.

As long as these young players work hard, the varsity will always have good talent to work with in the future.

The girls' tennis team, under the guidance of Coach Pam Wood and senior Selena Einkauf, did well this year.

Einkauf was the team's number one singles player. She proved her talent by qualifying for the regional tennis matches at San Jacinto College.

The number two singles player was Vivian Manning. The number one doubles team was Kim Bradshaw and Renate Cormier. The number two duo team was Mary Ann Espiritu and Carolyn Schaff.

This year's team included three seniors, two juniors, four sophomores, and six freshmen.

Letterwomen for the year included one year letterwomen Angela Bradley, Renate Cormier, Kim Bradshaw, Mary Ann Espiritu, and Carolyn Schaff; two-year letterwoman Vivian Manning and three-year letterwoman Selena Einkauf.

These girls put in many long hours of work on the tennis courts, but they could not have made it through without Coach Wood.

Golfers advance to regionals

The 1983 Indian golf team's season could best be described with the cliche, "close, but no cigar."

The Indian linksters earned a berth to the regional tournament by placing second at district.

The first and second place teams and individuals at regionals qualified for the state tournament in Austin. The team missed by a mere five shots from becoming the first golf team at PN-G to go to state. The Indians finished fourth with a team score of 646, while second-place Northshore shot 641. Junior Randy Jones came even closer to a trip to Austin. Jones finished one shot out of second place in the medalist standings with a two-day total of 151. The squad at regionals consisted of Jones, senior Tommy Jordan, junior Joey Stroud, and freshmen Mike Dulin and Craig Huffstetler.

Coach Tommy Tucker's crew placed second at district with a team total of 647. Jones' 155 total captured runner-up medalist honors. Jones, Dulin, Jordan, Stroud, and junior David Foreman were part of the second-place squad.

Also, PN-G's second team had an outstanding tournament, placing third with a 664 total. Second-team members included Huffstetler, sophomore Giles Kibbe, and freshmen Vach Landry, Tré Elmore, and Bobby Kibbe.

Golfers' hopes fall short

Two seniors, one junior, and one sophomore represented Port Neches-Groves High on the girls' golf team this year.

Seniors Tessy Roy, and Kara Kibbe, junior Candy Warner, and sophomore Susan Farrow participated in the district golf meet held at West Orange. The team led the tournament after the first day of play, but had to sacrifice the first place position due to an illness of one member. However, Tessy Roy became top medalist and advanced to the Regional Meet in Houston.

The team was coached by Ms. Barbara Comeaux.

Indian athletes aid community

The Association of Indian Athletes and the Organization of Indian Athletes worked together this year to benefit the community as well as the school.

Both organizations participated in the "White Christmas" drive in which they collected and distributed canned goods to the needy families of Port Neches and Groves.

The OIA and the faculty participated in a basketball game to raise money for Multiple Sclerosis. The OIA also helped with the March of Dimes.

The AIA raised money for two $250 scholarships for Theresa Roy and Ashley Woodyard. They did this by selling stickers and by having bake sales. They also helped with Easter Seals.

The sponsor for the AIA was Mrs. Linda Briggs. The OIA's sponsors were Mr. Frank Cheek and Mr. Steve Fitzgerald.

Seniors enjoy Lions, Rotary

During each month of the school year a senior boy and girl were chosen to attend the Port Neches and Groves Rotary Club meetings.

Also each month the Port Neches Lions Club chose a senior boy to serve as Junior Lion.

In addition the Lions Club of both Groves and Port Neches selected a senior girl to be their sweetheart for the year.

While enjoying a delicious meal, the students had an opportunity to learn about the activities and purposes of the clubs they are attending. The students were selected on the basis of criteria submitted by the clubs.

Honor students receive recognition

Being inducted into the National Honor Society is one of the biggest honors at Port Neches-Groves. A student must be in the top 5 percent of his class to be inducted as a junior or the top 10 percent to be inducted as a senior.

Over the year the Society performs several worthwhile projects for the community. This year several members dressed up and delivered candy to children who were in the hospital on Halloween. The annual Christmas party was held at Jill Comstock's house with plans of caroling to the surrounding neighbors. However, due to rain, the students resorted to caroling over the phone. The Honor Society was also in charge of getting merit awards out.

On March 1, 1983, twenty-three juniors and twenty-four seniors were inducted into the society. The year came to a conclusion with the annual picnic which was attended by both one and two-year members.

Sponsors of the Honor Society are Mrs. Sarita Brink and Mrs. Joanne Conn.

Dr. James Brown

Mr. James Green

The Board of Trustees of the Port Neches Independent School District has, as usual, conducted the business of the district this year in a low-keyed and efficient manner. Forethought and careful planning enabled them to steer a safe path during unstable economic times.

The sudden and tragic death in March of Mr. Russell Brittain resulted in a special election's being called for August. Mr. Brittain's presence will be missed by the board members and district patrons as well for his primary concern was always the student and his education.

Dr. Thomas Huff and Mr. Kenneth Watson provide the stable leadership a school district needs if it is to offer the quality education students are entitled to.

Nothing is so important to excellence as continuity and cooperation and PNISD is indeed fortunate in having at its helm two men who prize these characteristics.

The leadership of Dr. Huff and Mr. Watson should keep the district on an even keel as it moves through the restless waters of an uncertain economy.

Administration works hard

Once again the PN-G administrators have given us a year to remember.

"Head honcho" Mr. Zack Byrd, who has been here seven years, takes care of the many problems that develop.

Assistant principals, Mr. Howard Frey, Mr. James Warner, and Mrs. Emmy Lou Scott, worked together to help Mr. Byrd with the 100's of jobs and errands needed to be done throughout the year.

Director of student activities, Mr. Ken Einkauf, always puts more than 100% of his effort to keep everything running smoothly. Mr. Sammy Almany, music coordinator, worked with and directed the district music programs.

Mr. Doug Ethridge, athletic director and head football coach, spent many long hours preparing PN-G teams for district competition. Vocational director, Mr. Don Goza, prepared students for a working life after high school.

With these hard working administrators PN-G has managed to grow and become an even better school than it has ever been before.

Faculty supports Indian sports . . .

PN-G would not be "IT" without the faculty's special ability to teach and support the Indians.

The teachers not only help students with school work, they also sponsor extra-curricular activities. Added to the faculty this year are the many new teachers who transferred along with the Freshman Class.

The faculty as a whole will continue to spread happiness and good thoughts throughout the PN-G Reservation.

Cafeteria staff, custodians # one

The cafeteria staff and custodians are a group of people who put in many hours "to keep the school in tiptop condition."

In addition to this they still have time to make a friend or two along the way. They are also supporters of the Indians as they are often seen wearing the familiar purple and white.

We are very proud and grateful to have such dedicated people at PN-G.

Seniors voice opinions

In years to come you may wonder what the top movie was or what song was at the top of the charts in 1983, or maybe what name brand clothes were "in." This year's journalism class decided to use a questionnaire to find out the fads and favorites for 1983 and give them a special place in this year's War Whoop. Here are the top answers received in each category.

Soft Drinks

Dr. Pepper — 101
Coke — 95
Pepsi — 28

Favorite Car

Corvette came in first with Camaro and Mustang coming in second and third.

Favorite Song

The first place song was "I won't hold you back" by Toto, second place was "Faithfully" by Journey, and third place was "Free Bird" by Lynyrd Skynyrd.

Favorite Comic

First place was "Garfield," second was "Family Circus," and third was "Peanuts."

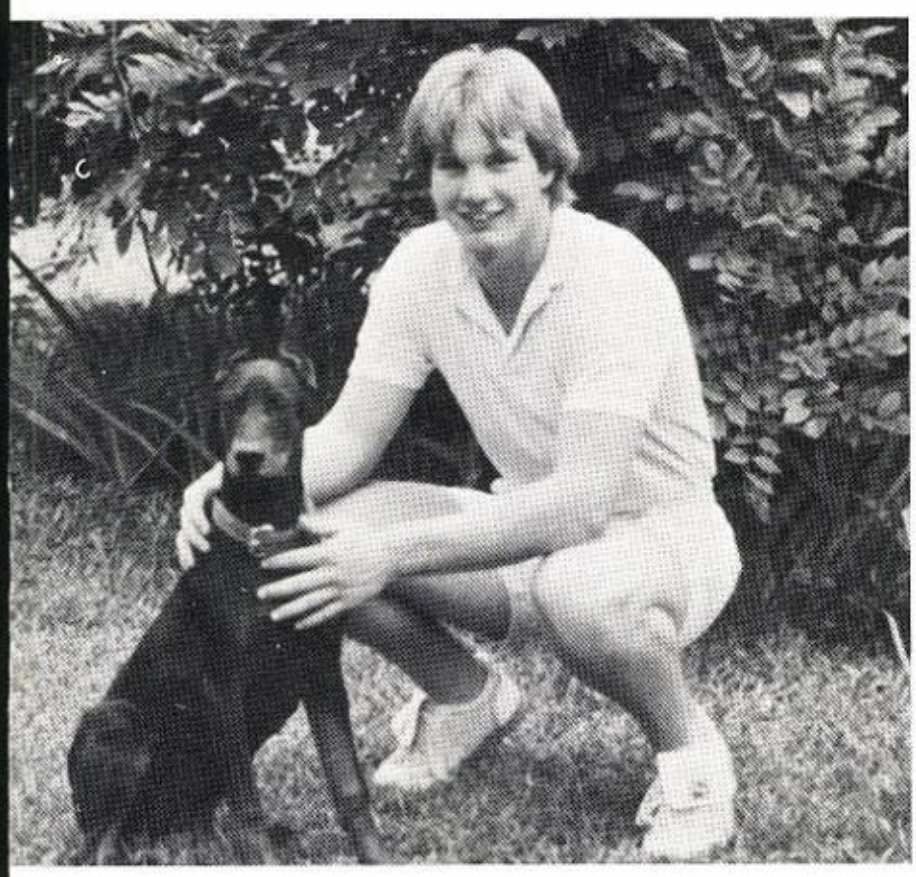
The top fast food was hamburgers, with pizza coming in second and tacos third. The top fast food restaurant was McDonald's with Sonic and Burger King following close behind.

The winner for favorite flavor of ice cream was chocolate, with cookies and cream coming in second and vanilla third.

Each year brings a new dimension to entertainment. This year's favorite movies varied from comedy to serious with first place being "E.T." followed by "An Officer and a Gentleman" and ending up with "Porky's." Then moving to television with the favorite channel being Showtime and Channel 12 and Channel 6 coming in second and third. The most liked series were "Magnum P.I.," "Mash," and "The A-Team." The soap operas were first, "All My Children"; second, "The Guilding Light"; and third "General Hospital."

Although the new era of music was new wave punk rock it didn't make the poll. Rock-N-Roll was led by Journey with Led Zeppelin coming in second and Boston third. Country had Alabama at the top of the list followed by Hank Williams, Jr., and Willie Nelson coming in third. The top radio station was B-95, followed by KZOM and KYKR.

(A) This year's favorite fashion brands were as follows: O.P., Espirit, and Polo. Levi's came in first for favorite jeans with Lee coming in second and Calvin Klein third. Among the other categories were favorite day which was, of course, Graduation. Also, where was your favorite place to go on a date? Number one on the poll was to see a movie and then out to eat. How about your favorite magazine? "Seventeen" came up with the most votes but "Hot Rod" and "Sports Illustrated" were close behind. And last but not least were the favorite pets. The dogs won by a long shot with cats and horses next in line.



Senior Day ends on stormy note

On May 20 the halls were filled with turquoise and white. They were the senior colors.

The day really began with the senior meal. Every senior ate together in a decorated cafeteria.

Special memories were made, but the most memorable one was at 2:45 p.m. when the sky turned black, and the rain began. The students were asked to leave their classrooms and be seated in the halls.

Eventually the rain slacked off and school was dismissed. On the senior's last day, they had to wade through the parking lot to get to their cars.

Remember: "My friends, my friends"

May 24, 1983, brought both joy and sorrow to the Class of 1983 as they realized they had completed twelve years of school and made many memories. The Reverend Roger L. Shuemate, Pastor of United Methodist Temple, Port Arthur, spoke to the graduates, and Mr. James Green, president of the Board of Trustees, presented tbe diplomas. At the end of the ceremony the Senior Class song "My friends, my friends" was played as graduates went their separate ways.

The best in every way

When a student first enters the halls of PN-G, fearful of the years ahead, that fear quickly becomes excitement as the student becomes involved and senses the special spirit that PN-G possesses. As spring arrives everyone begins to realize the year is almost over. Seniors prepare for graduation and juniors receive their rings. While sophomores and freshmen are just glad they have made it through their first year. Students make many friends and countless memories during their time in high school and are able to take these special memories with them as they leave, making them always feel they are a part of PN-G. It's that special spirit that makes PN-G the best in every way.

PN-G is It

As we leave the Reservation, we are wishing that all our tomorrows will be as memorable as our yesterdays and hoping that your years at PN-G will be just as special as ours were.

"Good-bye" is not an ending but a different start for you, a time for making brand new friends and seeing dreams come true.
